Psalm: 115.1-9; Page 340

First Exhortation: The Woe of Idolatry, and the Blessedness of Serving the True God: Deuteronomy 4.15-40

Pray for the Church, that she would put away her idols, and serve the true God.

1. Pray for the Church, that she would seek the Lord, His favor, His approval, that she might know the true blessing and privilege of what it means to serve the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, according to all that He has revealed of Himself to us, putting away her erroneous thoughts of God. (Psalm 86.10-15)
2. Pray that the Church would not seek the approval of this world, nor give her loyalty to worldly ideas, but that she would hear her Shepherd, Head and Husband, and follow Him, putting away the contra-biblical ideologies that many churches have embraced, to the dishonor of Christ. (Leviticus 18 (all), Isaiah 3.12; John 10.14-16 1 Timothy 2.12)
3. Pray that the Lord would teach His people what the idols of this age are, that the Church might be especially aware of the temptations to heart idolatry common to us all, that we would “put away the strange gods among us” and worship and serve the Lord alone, that no earthly glory, power, or wealth would seduce us. (Ezekiel 14.1-6; James 4.1-10; Colossians 3.5)
4. Pray for Church leaders, for that they would be guides to Christ, and not to any others, that those leaders themselves would hear the voice of Christ in their leadership, and not be guides to falsehood and idolatry—in their teaching, counseling, example, conduct, corrections, and in all their spiritual care, as those who will give account. (Ezekiel 34.16)
5. Pray for the people of God, that they might follow godly leadership in the Churches, away from the idols of the age and all their fables, that their ears would not itch for falsehood, but would be open to the pure Word of God, that they might addict themselves to the ministry of Christ, even when costly. (2 Timothy 4.1-8; 1 Corinthians 16.15)
6. Pray that the Lord would purge from His people all secret, and open idolatry in false worship, un-commanded worship, image worship, observing of “times,” carnality in worship, and coldness and deadness in worship, Sabbath breaking—that her worship of the true God might be reformed, revived, and undertaken in the beauty of holiness. (Colossians 2.16-23)
7. Pray for the Church, that she would hold fast to the Head, even Christ, and in so doing, that the Lord would grant her true wisdom and knowledge, that she would put away her idols. (Proverbs 1.20-23; 8.1-11; Colossians 2.4-13)
8. Pray that the Church would be free of all syncretism, mingling the worship of the true God with idols, that she would hear only His voice, and not tolerate such evil, putting away her desire to please any except the Lord. (Zephaniah 1.1-6)

Psalm: 96.1-8; Page 279

Second Exhortation: Praying Through Deuteronomy, Chapter 27: Deuteronomy 27.1-26

Prayer re: Obedience, Remembrance, Inception, Worship, Covenant, Division, Cursing, Warning, Commitment

1. Pray regarding God's Commandments, for a ready reception among the people of God, obedience to them from hearts purified by faith, that the broad commandments of God would rule over our whole lives. (Deut. 27.1)
2. Pray that the Sacraments of the New Testament that the people of God would have a proper remembrance of the spiritual truths sealed to believers in them, that the Lord would grant soul-nourishment, and growth in grace. (Deut. 27.2-3)
3. Pray concerning the beginning of things, that we would always begin well spiritually, whether at the beginning of marriage, establishing a Church, starting a job, that as the Israelites, we would begin with the Lord, and so continue. (Deut. 27.4)
4. Pray concerning the New Testament offerings and worship, that they would be according to the Lord's command, that the Lord would purify His Worship, and that we would offer ourselves as living sacrifices to do His will. (Deut. 27.5-8)
5. Pray for the people of God, that they would be “covenanters” in the Biblical sense, having the Lord God for their God, their pure and sincere profession to be His alone, to acknowledge Him alone as our hope unto obedience. (Deut. 27.9)
6. Pray concerning the division of labor among the people of God, for the putting away of jealousies among, that Ministers would labor diligently, that Elders would watch over the flock with care, that Deacons would be helpers of those who are cast down, and that the members would support the work of the Church faithfully with prayer and attendance. (Deut. 27.9)
7. Pray concerning the curses iterated from the top of Mt. Ebal, that all secret idolatry; disrespect of authority; theft and the taking away of inheritance; hardness of heart toward others; objectifying and abusing those who are at disadvantage; oppression of the poor, widow, orphan and stranger; adultery, fornication and all other perversity; violence toward our neighbor; suborning others to do harm; and other common sins of our age be rightly understood as cursed, shameful, worthy of God's righteous judgment, that they might cease. (Deut. 27.15-25)
8. Pray that the world, and the wicked in the Church would take warning from the Lord that these sins will not escape the righteous judgment of the Lord, that our sins will find us out, no matter how we try to conceal them, and that the only sure path to blessing is repentance and calling upon the Lord Jesus Christ for forgiveness of these and other sins. (Dt. 27.15-25)
9. Pray as we hear the people say “Amen” in this passage, that we would give our hearty commitment to avoiding such sins as are here enumerated, that if we have practiced them, we would turn from them with grief and hatred, that the Lord would give repentance, and pray also that new obedience instead would be sweet to the people of God. (Deut. 27.26)
